Robert Santucci Joins Training & Development Associates

Laurinburg, NC, January 8, 2010 – Training & Development Associates, a national consulting firm, today announced that Robert Santucci has joined the company as Vice President of Neighborhood Stabilization Program Technical Assistance. In this role, Mr. Santucci will oversee TDA's services that are funded by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development's (HUD) Neighborhood Stabilization Program technical assistance (NSP-TA) grants.

"With extensive experience in the affordable housing industry, Bob brings to TDA the right set of skills to help struggling communities," said E. Wayne Freeman, President and Chief Executive Officer. "Bob's no-nonsense approach to addressing local issues and his ability to get things done quickly will benefit communities struggling to recover from the housing crisis."

Robert Santucci has over 35 years experience in housing program design and development, value engineering, real estate finance, and sustainable building. He has designed and operated innovative affordable housing programs offering new construction, scattered-site rehabilitation and multifamily rentals. Before joining TDA, Mr. Santucci was one of TDA's prime subcontractors. With his hands-on experience in renovation and team management, he has produced extensive training programs, technical publications, and provided technical assistance in the efficient development of residential property. He is nationally recognized for his experience in single-family rehabilitation and the cost effective mitigation of lead hazards. Mr. Santucci has a BS in Psychology from Georgetown University.
